

"Christian groups" who have a lot of money. So what they are going to do is they are going to focus everyone on issues like the sanctity of marriage. They will say, 'we support that marriage is between one man and one woman' knowing that ~~Oberfell~~ ^{Obergefell} [the Supreme court decision legalizing "gay marriage"] has already given people the right in all 50 states to have a "same sex marriage".

So it is a safe thing to take a stand on and it doesn't really cost you anything and you know that your gay allies are not going to really take you to task on it.

Meanwhile they are sacrificing the Christian ^{position on} ~~as~~ whether people can change [hence the terms 'S.S.A Christian', 'gay Christian', 'mix orientation marriage', 'celibate gay Christian'] the high cost of discipleship" and the "idolatry of the nuclear family" whether it [homosexuality] is really a sin, whether the gay community as it exists right now features a great deal of abuse and misconduct and sexual disease and ~~unhappy~~ ^{some} ~~unhappiness~~ unhappiness. So they are sacrificing all of the things that matter for Christ's message: that if you obey God's design, if you live in obedience to God you will find happiness and you will see all the blessings that God gives you. If you live against God's design you won't see that.

But we're sacrificing that stance and in particular they are on their way to saying that God makes ^{people} gay and that you can't change that if God makes people gay. That is basically complete surrender ~~regardless~~ regardless of what they say about marriage

Comments on how he's spoken to Robert through the years and always finds him credible. He asks if Southwestern and the entire denomination is doing this "on the sly". They are doing this stealthily because they don't want the ordinary Southern Baptists that pay the freight and donate to Southwestern to keep it alive - they don't want people to know what they are really all about is that an exag

Robert Lopez gives some thoughts and then says

"I can't prove that 100%, but that sounds like a very plausible - a very likely interpretation of what's going on. . . . they are trying very hard to keep the public unaware of the changes in their position on this thing."
